

Press Release-7/1/06-Cincinnati, OH-CentralSat website goes online.

“We’re very excited about our new website. Now we have another tool for potential clients.” Said Jim Timmerman, Operations Manager for Central Satellite Services. “No matter how hard you try some times we are unable to tell new customers all about our company over the phone or with a brochure. Our website gives potential clients the ability to learn all about our trucks and services, service area and more at their convenience.”

The website features eight sections: Trucks, Services, Service Area, Links, Gallery, Clients, News and Contact Us. Each section quickly loads the information in a clean, organized and easy to read manner.

The website, designed and built by Horizon Productions, is yet the latest addition to the expanding company. Since adding the second truck CentralSat has added several services and tripled the client list.

“We are especially proud of our “Clients and News” sections. They highlight some of the work Central Satellite Services has done and we always like to boast about our clients” Said Mr. Timmerman.

Clients looking for television production services, teleconference information or how satellite technology can make their companies more efficient and create revenue should visit the website at www.centralsat.com . You can contact CentralSat at the addresses listed in the Contact Us section or send an email to info@centralsat.com.
