

Press Release-6/28/05-Cincinnati, OH- Skehan Telecommunications and A & E Channel hire Central Satellite Services for special webcast from National Underground Freedom Center.

CentralSat truck #1 was used to provide production and uplink facilities for a webcast produced for the Arts and Entertainment Channel. The program was produced by Skehan Telecommunications. The multi-camera event was held in the Harriet Tubman Theater at the National Underground Freedom Center on the banks of the Ohio River in Cincinnati. In the attendance were members of the media, various dignitaries and the general public.

The hour long presentation included a film about addiction, discussion by local drug awareness experts as well as questions and answers from the audience. Mrs. Hope Taft, wife of Governor Taft, also spoke about the importance of funding drug awareness programs.

Skehan Telecommunication's Executive Producer Bob Skehan coordinated the event in conjunction with Central Satellite Services. The crew, video & audio equipment, lighting package and uplink facilities were under the supervision of Jim Timmerman, Operations Manager for Central Satellite Services.

Jim Timmerman commented "Networks and production companies use Central Satellite Services for a variety of programs. We're able to do more than just uplink. For this program we provided crew, all the production equipment, lighting and connectivity back to A & E. Clients know that one call can do it all."
